Through all of our activities runs one common thread; the determination to innovate with products that positively impact people’s daily and working lives. Whether sustainable, modular carpet from modulyss and our LA-based Bentley brand, inspiring and affordable rugs from Balta home, or beautifully soft carpet from Balta carpets and ITC, we are proud of our ability to bring our customers products that make their spaces better places to work or live.

Most of all though, it is the strong sense of family that makes the Balta Group such a force in the floorcovering sector. SUSTAINABILITY

People

At Balta, we embrace our corporate social responsibility by supporting good causes. Among others, we arrange an employee blood-donating session and raise money and attention for charity projects such as ‘De Warmste Week’. In Selendi, Turkey, we participate in a social project by providing a bus service for our employees in order to curtail immigration from rural areas to the town.

We require high standards of health and safety to support an efficient and growing business. Recently, we invested in our strong commitment to putting safety first with the aim of improving our safety performance across the group.

Our ambition is clear for all employees: "Every colleague who starts the work day or shift returns home safe and healthy."

Planet

As a leading soft flooring producer, we retain and win customers by supporting their growth with innovative, sustainable and high performance products. Balta is reducing the environmental footprint by limiting pollution from its production process and reducing consumption of natural resources, whilst operating as efficiently as possible. We design new products that can be fully recycled, as well as modify existing products to now be made of only one raw material, thereby supporting their recycling.

Balta works towards environmental sustainability as we are fully ISO 14001 compliant, creating strong foundations to implement our environmental initiatives. Internal and external audits are helping us to continuously improve our performance in this area.

Prosperity

The satisfaction of our customers and suppliers is often determined by how we grow their businesses and by the long-term relationships we have developed.

We are committed to doing business in a responsible and sustainable manner by complying with all local laws. Our businesses operate within local communities where we play an active role and participate in supporting good causes. Compliance is an important subject at Balta, giving us the freedom to grow our business for the benefit of all our stakeholders.
